Robert Brown of Windsor arrived in the city last night and is making a few days' visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of 15 Bassett street.

Walter Wood of North Main street, who has been residing in the city during the summer, left yesterday for St. Albans, where he will spend the next few months.

Howard Wright of Dorchester, Mass., who has been spending the past week visiting at the home of G. L. Linekin on Merchant street, left for his home last night.

Milford Veino of East Hill, who has been at Mary Fletcher hospital, Burlington, for the past five weeks, underwent an operation last Friday and is doing very nicely.

Leslie Creighton, a former resident of this city, who has been residing in Atlantic City, N. J., for the past two years, arrived this morning for an extended visit with friends.

Frank Courtney of Elm street, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Courtney of South Royalton, for the past two weeks, returned to his home in this city yesterday.

Claud Partridge of Summer street, who has been visiting relatives in Randolph for the past week, returned home last night and resumed his studies at Spaulding high school this morning.

Miss Lillian Fradd of Long street, who has been spending the summer with relatives in Hallowell, Me., returned home yesterday and resumed her studies at Spaulding high school this morning.

The ladies and pastor's union of the Methodist church will hold their monthly business meeting Thursday at 2:30 at the church. Ladies please come prepared to tie quilts. A large attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Friend N. Whitecomb of Beacon street returned this morning from Essex Junction, where they have been visiting their daughter, Miss Bernice Whitecomb, an attaché in the office of the secretary of state.

Miss Erma Cooney of East Barre, who has been visiting for several days with friends in St. Albans, returned home last night, after a short visit with Misses Esther and Elizabeth Libersout on Seminary street.

The United Missionary society of the Methodist church will hold its September meeting with Mrs. John Trow of Washington street Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Friends as well as members of the society are invited.

Neil Hooker and Wilbur Erickson, 1915 graduates of Spaulding, and Winifred Vaughan who was graduated from the Holderness school in Plymouth, N. H., left this morning for Northfield, where they will enter Norwich university.

Miss Carrie Linekin, who has been spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Linekin of 25 Merchant street, left last night for Springfield and began her duties as teacher in the Springfield high school this morning.

Mrs. Carrie E. Brooks and her daughter, Miss Stella M. Brooks of Washington street, have returned home after passing the summer in Chebeague, Me. Miss Brooks resumed her duties as a member of the Spaulding high school faculty this morning.

Thomas Batchelder and Earl Emith returned to their homes in this city last night from Hardwick, where they appeared in the Plainfield lineup when they played Hardwick at baseball yesterday afternoon. Smith played first base and Batchelder played left field, while the Plainfield team was being defeated by the score of 8 to 3.

Edmund Cardine, who has been employed in the Burrill pool and billiard parlor and bowling alley for the past eight years and who completed his duties there about a month ago, began work yesterday morning in the Royal parlor in the Jackson block for George Lander. He is taking the place of Egidio Rullo, who completed his work there Saturday night and who began work this morning for Weaver and Murphy in their Pearl street parlor.

Mrs. Justina K. Kent had the real pleasure of meeting in reunion at the old Kent farm in Chalais on Sunday, Sept. 5, all of her children and grandchildren, the number including Mr. and Mrs. George Kent and children, Marjorie and Malcolm, of Barre, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Martin and children, Fanny and Alice, of Plainfield, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Robinson and children, Ruth, Rachel and Rhoda, of Barre, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Reams of Montpelier, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Welch of Springfield, Mass., and Virgil K. Kent of Springfield, Mass. This was the first time in more than a dozen years that the members had all been together at one time and the day was all too short to complete the program which was arranged, not the least of which was a picnic dinner in a maple grove on the old farm. The journey was made from the various points by motor.

At their chapel at North Barre Monday evening, the Italian people held a very delightful reception and social in honor of Miss Teresa Lanyon, who has been a deaconess in Barre for the past four years and in charge of the work at North Barre since March and who is to go to Detroit, Mich., in the near future to take charge of the work there. The reception was also made the occasion for welcoming Miss Bette Davis, who has come to take charge of the work and home here. The auditorium of the chapel was prettily decorated in green and white, with the words, "Welcome—Farewell," over the platform, the arrangements being made by the young men of the D. C. V. club. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Newell of the Methodist church, Pres. C. S. Andrews of the auxiliary board of the North Barre Sunday school. A very pleasant program of music and readings was enjoyed by 125 people. The address of welcome was given by Miss Gertrude Dickey, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the auxiliary girls, and everyone pronounced the evening a social success.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement. Also for the many beautiful floral tributes.
Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Jones and family.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Last evening at her home, 23 Green street, Miss Gladys Dale entertained a party of 20 young people, the occasion being in honor of Norton Lebourveau, who leaves soon to enter college. Whist and other games were in order during the evening and before departing all partook of a dainty collation.

Ernest A. Williams of Montpelier is acting in charge of the American Express Co.'s Barre office during the absence of Harry W. Britton, who is passing a two weeks' vacation at his former home in Hartland. Mr. Britton's speed horse, Brownell II., is entered for the race card at the Dog River Valley fair, which opened in Northfield today.

About a score of young people from this city went last evening to the farm of Dean Bassett on Prospect street, where they had a corn roast. The usual lunch of watermelons, marshmallows, apples, olives and pickles was taken and with the corn a big "spread" was made. After finishing this, games were played for some time and the end came by gathering about the fire and each one telling a story.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Garrett returned last night to Malden, Mass. Mrs. Garrett has been spending several weeks at her former home, having accompanied her father, Charles Plouff, home from the Carney hospital in South Boston, where he has been having treatment. Mr. Garrett has been spending a few days at the home of his wife's parents.

AUTOMOBILE BURNED UP.

George P. Eastman's Car Overturns and Burns to Flames.

Rutland, Sept. 7.—A seven-passenger automobile, owned by George P. Eastman of this city, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Mr. Eastman left the machine standing near his marble mill at West Rutland and in some way the heavy car started down the incline, describing in its course a wide semicircle and tearing its way through a fence into an orchard, where it overturned.
